Giants Bow to Braves and Lose Ground in Pennant Race—Dodgers Overwhelm Phillies Southworth's Home Run in Fifth Causes Downfall of Local Team

Boston Outfielder's Circuit Clout Scores Three Runs and Chases Nehf to Showers; Oeschger Pitches Well After McGraw's Players Take Early Lead

The onward rush of the pennant-mad Giants was halted at least porarily by the battling Braves in the first game of the series at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon, when the home players were defeated by a score of 6 to 3. This unexpected setback, combined with the victory of the pace-setting Pirates over the Reds, again put the Giants one full game behind the League leaders.

drove to cover Artie Nehf, ace of Mc-Graw's pitching staff. Nehf went along at a great rate for three innings, but was pounded severely in the fourth, during which the visitors scored three runs and took the lead. They resumed their assault on Nehf in the fifth, the climax of which was a home run by Billy Scuthworth with two men on the hases. This circuit clout spoiled a perfectly good afternoon for the home fans and gave the Boston players their margin of victory.

Nehf was led to the showers immediately after Southworth's wallop and Slim Sallee was removed in favor of a hitless pinch hitter in the seventh and Cecil Causey, who recently returned to the Giants from his exile in Philadelphia, held the visitors in check during the last two innings.

Oeschger Humbles Former Mates
Joe Oeschger, who, it will be recalled, drove to cover Artie Nehf, ace of Mc-pania, acid the visitors in check during the last two innings.

Oeschager Humbles Former Mates

Joe Oeschager, who, it will he recalled, was sent to Boston in the deal that brought Nehf to New York several years ago, pitched with great effectiveness, against his former team mates after getting off to a poor start. He was humped for five hits in the first four innings, but he allowed only two more hits for the remainder of the afternoon. Not one of the home players advanced as far as second base after the fourth inning.

Both teams performed in errorless style in the field and accorded their respective pitchers some very fine amport. Dave Bancroft and Horace Ford contributed the fielding features of the contest, both of swhich came in the minth inning. Bancroft made a marvelous leaping one-hand catch of Ford's line drive toward right field, which had all the earmarks of a safe hit. Ford robbed Earl Smith of a single several moments later by making a bare hand stop of the latter's sharp grounder and getting the runner at first base.

Southworth led the attack on the three home pitchers by getting two singles and a home run in four trips to the plate. Barbare poked out a double and a triple and Ford connected for a two bagger and a single.

The Giants were quick to take advantage of Oeschger's unsteadiness at the outset and they got off to a one run lead in the second inning. "Long George" Kelly led off with a two-base hit along the left field foul line and then took third after Southworth pulled down Meusel's long fly. Rawlings draw a base on balls and Earl Smith followed with a sacrifice fly to Southworth that scored Kelly.

Rawlings Caught Off Third

Nehf poked a single to center, sending Rawlings for third The unrising. Planting for the work of both teams.

Pirable Triple Followed by Grimming game to-day, by a score of 2 to 1.

With two out in the twelfth, Tlerney tripled and Grimm singled, driving in the winning game to-day, by a score of 2 to 1.

Pitthewed Triple Followed by Cincinnation of the work of both Southworth scored and Boeckel took third on Barbare's grounder to Kelly. Holke singled to left, sending Boeckel across. Ford slammed a double to center and Holke completed the circuit. Gowdy finally grounded to Bancroft for the third out.

Earl Smith tied the score for the Giants in the second half of the fourth inning by driving a home run into the upper tier of the right field stands.

Rawlings Caught Off Third

Nehf poked a single to center, sending Rawlings to third. The uprising came to an untimely end at this point, as Rawlings was nailed flatfooted off third base when Gowdy bluffed a throw to second on Nehf's attempted steal.

Oeschger was bumped for two more hits in the third inning and the Giants jamhed another run across. After Burns had grounded to Boeckel, Bancroft dropped a single in right field and then completed the circuit on Frisch's solid smash to right center for three bases. Fordham Frank was left stranded, as Kelly went out on a short fly to Nixon in left field and Meusel rolled one down to Boeckel.

The Braves could accomplish little against Neff's offerings in the first three innings, but they shoved three runs across in the fourth and hereby went into the lead. With one out Southworth shot a single past Frisch and Boeckel then doubled to left.

Braves Drive Out Neff's Coschger paved the way for Neff's downfall in the fifth inning by driving out a single to center with none out. Powell followed with another single to right and both runners advanced on Nixon's sacrifice. Southworth then clinched the game by lifting the ball into the right field stands, scoring Oeschger and Powell shead of him. Neff then retired in favor of Sallee and the scoring activities came to a close. Powell followed with another single to right and both runners advanced on Nixon's sacrifice. Southworth then clinched the game by lifting the bail into the right field stands, scoring Oeschger and Powell ahead of him. Neff then retired in favor of Sallee and the scoring activities came to a close.

Fisch opened the eighth by beating out a splash in front of the plate, but he was forced at second by Young who was in turn forced by Kelly. Meusel flied to Southworth for the final out of the inning.

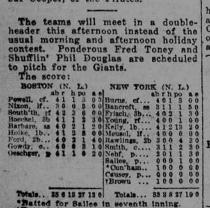

Frisch and Kelly were the only two Glants to connect for more than one hit. The former slammed out a triple and a single in four trips to the plate and the latter made a single and a double.

Oeschger's victory was his twentleth of the plate and the latter made a single and a double.

Mitchell Steadies After Poor Start and Gains Easy Victory

Robbie's, Men Pile Up 19 Hits Off the Pitching of Hubbell and Betts

The Dodgers had little difficulty in winning the first contest of a fourgame series from the lowly Phillies at Ebbets Field yesterday. They pounded the offerings of Hubbell and Betts for nineteen hits, while Clarence Mitchell subdued the Philly batters. The final score was 10 to 4. It was Brooklyn's fourteenth victory of the season over the cellar champions.

The visitors gave a poor exhibition in the field before the small Sunday crowd. The pitchers were ineffective and Hubbell blew a two-run lead which his mates piled up in the first inning. After the first inning Mitchell settled down to a fine exhibition, but let up in the eighth, when his team was leading, 10 to 2. The Phillies scored their final runs in this inning on five The nineteen hits, which included equaled the Dodgers' season record for safeties. Every member of the team registered at least one hit with the exception of Neis, who played only half a game. Myers collected a triple and two singles, while Kilduff had three singles. Le Bourveau Stars in Field

Ed Konetchy, who made his first appearance at Edbets Field in a Philadelphia uniform, received a hearty welcome from the fans when he walked to the plate. He forced over the first Philly run by drawing a pass.

The Phillies' two runs in the, first inning resulted from a streak of wildness on the part of Mitchell.* Monroe doubled and Miller walked. When Schmandt hit Miller in attempting a force play of Le Bourveau's rap the bases were filled. Williams popped up, but Koney walked, scoring Monroe. Miller scored while Le Bourveau was thrown out at second.
